

International Listening Association Traditional Track for Certified Listening Practitioner (CLP)

Name: (PLEASE PRINT)

What is a Certified Listening Practitioner (CLP)?

The designation behind your name says that you have successfully met a global standard in listening. You have a specific level of education and experience as a listener and/or listening practitioner. Your work demonstrates that you think strategically, establish meaningful goals and objectives, and measure your success in relation to listening. Your work has been reviewed by peers and has successfully stood the test that demonstrates a well-rounded, problem-solving approach.

What is the difference between the Fast Track CLP and Traditional Track CLP?

Fast Track applicants are already proven experts and leaders in the field of listening who are active members of the International Listening Association (ILA). The Traditional Track CLP program is designed for those individuals who wish to learn and improve their listening skills and learn how to develop strategies to complement their fields of expertise. Traditional Track CLP would appeal to a wide range of professionals who spend time listening to a variety of constituents in diverse settings.
